SUCCESS STORY 2010

If you believe...

Ms. Marjorie Mainguth was born and raised in Tampa. She attended a local high school and college. She majored in Chemistry at the University of Tampa and also attended Duke University. Her love of education led her to the Resource Center.

After sixty-four years of using a typewriter, Ms. Mainguth never thought she would be learning a new way to type. This occurred when she decided to update her skills, especially those in technology. One day, she was going through a Brandon local newspaper and came across an ad from the Family Support & Resource Center. She learned about our Self Sufficiency program. Ms. Mainguth was determined and decided to learn how to use a computer. She visited the center and registered for the beginner's computer class.

Marjorie shared the wonderful experience with her family. She was excited about learning something new and getting a fresh start. She feels she's up-to-date with her grandchildren through technology. Marjorie states, "Wow I didn't think I could learn and do all this with a computer, this course has been an eye opener." She's very excited that she will be able to send her son an e-mail and surprise him.
